These advanced specialized English Courses are cost-effective tools for your Military English teaching.

The resolution of international conflicts and subsequent peacekeeping duties require organisations such as the UN, NATO as well as individual nations to supply military support and personnel. Army, navy and air force staff from many nations, therefore, need to work together and communicate effectively and efficiently in a common language. The language chosen is English and more specifically Military English. Designed in close collaboration with personnel training organisations, Military English aims to ensure your assigned military and civilian personnel can function from day one with their international colleagues. Military English focuses not only on providing personnel with the relevant military English vocabulary (based on STANAG 6001), but also the essential communication skills and tools required to work in an international military environment.

These interactive multimedia programs have a friendly and functional interface and are intended for individual studying of English with a multimedia computer. The learning process includes memorizing text and sound, pronunciation training, writing dictations, checked and corrected by the computer, doing various grammar exercises. It is very easy and efficient because it combines pictures, animation, sound and video.
